

Mission of the MISSM Program

“To be a leader in information security education and research, preparing graduates for leadership in the world”

“Participants and stakeholders share responsibility to ensure the quality of the program”

Our Values

Collaboration

We believe that teamwork – of students, faculty, administrators, external stakeholders and our Advisory Committee – plays an essential role in our continued excellence.

Innovation

Innovation and change permeates our work, from determining the ways information security management is changing, to adjusting curriculum, resources and delivery methods to ensure continued excellence, to encouraging a climate of research.

Integrity

We are guided by an ethic of honesty and integrity.

Communication

Clear and effective communication ensures we both meet our expectations and are committed to them.

Service orientation

We believe in strong customer service to those external to the program and to those involved in the program.

Standards

We measure what we do to challenge us all to be the best we can be.
